NEW TRIAL IS DENIED

FOR M'HENRY, ALIAS RICE A new trial for John McHenry, alias George Rice, 22 year old son of Mrs. Austin Rice of Broad street, New London, nileged slayer of Wallace Mulcare, Washington automobile dealer, and De ective Sergeant James Armstrong of the Washington police force, in December, 1919, has just been refused by the district court of appeals in Washington, which affirmed a charge of first degree murder turned against McHenry in the District

McHenry's execution—hanging—is scheduled for Nov. 18, but it is expected that a stay will be granted. The mundate from the appellate court will be handed down in 15 days.

Attorney Samuel McComas Hawken, representing Rice, stated that an appeal probably will be made to President Harding, as there hardly seems ground for carrying the case to the United States supreme court. In his hill for a new trial Hawken based his contention on the ground that the trial justice erred in not look by must be tryy hearing the one and ground that he trai justice erred in not looking up the jury hearing the case and that one member of the panel read a headthre on an article in a newspater which had direct bearing on the case. GREAT BRITAIN PREPARING TO BEGIN INTEREST PAYMENTS

Wast'ington, Nov. 2.—(By The A. P.)

—The creasury is as yet without advice from Great Britain as to that government's intention to begin the payment of interest upon its debt to the United States, officials said today.

However, officials said, it was probable that Great Britain was preparing to begin interest payments under the tentative understanding by which the interest on the debt was deferred for a three year period ending next April. As the British fiscal year ends in Marph, officials explained, that government is now preparing its budget for the coming year, atrangements may have been made to begin the payment of interest next spring.
